

The Life Notebook

When a loved one dies...there is a lot of work to be done.

This can be anything from canceling credit cards to canceling cell phones, from contacting funeral homes to contacting government agencies, from sending out death certificates to sending out thank you cards. In the midst of our grief we have to take care of all this business.

We recently found this out with the passing of a family member. Most people are not prepared for death. They do not have their affairs in order and doubly so if they die young.

The Life Notebook was developed to help assemble the information needed to assist those left behind. It contains sections on contact information, banking information, bills to be paid, funeral arrangements, and other areas.

The Life Notebook is not a will or even an estate planner. It is not a legal document but it does contain the last wishes of the deceased and therefore should be honoured.

The Life Notebook is offered in two versions, one for individuals (Single's Version) and one for couples (Couple's Version). Much of the information for couples will be the same so it made sense to offer this version to save time and energy. We also offer reduced rates for families who wish to purchase multiple copies of the Life Notebook.

For more information on the Life Notebook and how you may obtain one, please email Cindy at rubiescanada@gmail.com

"The Life Notebook - making death more manageable."